I come from Dakota Land with her prairies wide and low

Headed East for four long years to the land of ice and snow

Now I left my home and them prairie skies seeking treasures down below

Now the swamp and the swelt in the blistering heat is a hammock I call home

I call home, I call home

I made one too many bad mistakes to give out good advice

Took a wrong turn out of Jackson ended up on 55

Now I'm heading on to Tennessee hope to find my paradise

Don't need much just a little place, off the road that I call mine

I call mine, I call mine
