

I don't care what they say
There's no right or wrong way
A road walked is a choice made
You leave some behind

Each song is a new day
In the wake of a loss you pray
For the wounds of yesterday
Don't stay too long

There's no saint without the sin
No Lord gonna let you in
No song too long it can't be sung

Shake hands with your lost time
For growing old don't make you wise
Til you learn it's a sacrifice
To live your life

Face the day with a clean mind
For lovin' is a compromise (When)
You fall hard in her deep (blue) eyes
As she sings along

There's no spring without the rain
No heal without the pain
No need to stand you fall

I don't care if the sun shakes
The clouds in the sky don't break
In time though the heart may ache
It will all be fine

For every moment is your choice
Speak loud with a soft voice
Stay calm and remain poised
When she's gone too long

There's no time without your hand
No great truth to understand
No true love without a little hurt

And honey will you stay
When the hairs on my head go gray
The river fills with ratlesnakes
Can we begin?
